Our building

Plymouth Quakers have been located on Mutley Plain since the 1920's, when they founded the Swarthmore Adult Education Centre. In 2003 they completed a brand new building next door – the Quaker House Outreach Centre.

The new facility offers a more modern and suitable meeting house for Plymouth Quakers as well as a venue for community activities.

The vision was to provide meeting spaces for groups, activities and individuals, free from discrimination, and ask them to make a contribution to cover the running costs.

Our facilities

The Quaker House is in a central location and is easily accessible by bus or on foot from Plymouth city centre. The building has four purpose built, peaceful and light meeting rooms; two larger and two smaller rooms.

The following facilities are available for each room;

- Comfortable seating
- Lightweight, moveable tables
- Flipchart stands
- Use of kitchen
- Projection screen
- Disabled toilet
- Friendly reception support
- Limited parking by agreement
- Pleasant garden with seating

The building operates with a part time manager and a team of volunteers.

Our rooms

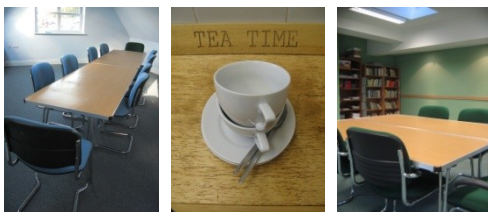

Room 1 and room 4 are larger rooms, seating up to 40 people. Spacious, airy and on the ground floor, room 1 also has disabled access.

Rooms 2 and 3 are smaller, seating around 25 people. Located at the top of the building, room 3 is equipped with a small kitchen area.
